INTRODUCTION: BUILDING HEALTHY, EQUITABLE COMMUNITIES

San Mateo Data

- In the Health Places Index, which scores community health based on community conditions that impact life expectancy, San Mateo County has a large gap between the least and most healthy cities. While Atherton and Woodside both rank at the 99th percentile, North Fair Oaks and East Palo Alto rank in the 54th at the 56th percentile, respectively.
- Life expectancy at birth decreased among all race/ethnicity groups in 2020 but the most significant decrease was among the Hispanic/Latinx population.
- In 2018, the percent of adults who were obese (body mass index of 30 or higher based on self-reported weight and height) was highest in East Palo Alto (31%) and North Fair Oaks (30%).

Health begins where people live, learn, work, and play (as known as social determinants of health). Get Healthy San Mateo County (GHSMC) is a local collaborative of community-based organizations, County agencies, cities, schools, and hospitals working together to advance policy change to prevent diseases and ensure everyone has equitable opportunities to live a long and healthy life. The collaborative is facilitated by San Mateo County Health.

GHSMC is a product of the Healthy Communities Initiative launched in 2004. During the last 19 years we have made great progress in preventing diseases and ensuring that all San Mateo County (SMC) residents have the opportunity to live long and healthy lives. Despite progress made, the COVID-19 pandemic exacerbated health inequities with lower-income residents and people of color experiencing higher rates of infection and disproportionate health, social and economic burdens. Moreover, rates of preventable chronic diseases like diabetes and asthma and diseases exacerbated by social disconnection such as mental illness and substance use are on the rise and the health outcomes of residents continue to vary by race, income, level of education, and place of residence.

However, many chronic health issues and inequities in health outcomes can be prevented by building healthy, equitable communities with a focus on place-based primary prevention and health equity.

Mission

Get Healthy San Mateo County uses policy change to prevent diseases and ensure everyone has equitable opportunities to live a long and healthy life.

Building Healthy, Equitable Communities

The key to improving the health of San Mateo County residents is to build healthy, equitable communities where everyone feels safe, is financially secure, receives a good education, and lives in stable, affordable housing located in neighborhoods that make it easy to be healthy and active every day. These neighborhoods offer a clean environment; access to healthy affordable foods, parks, and public places; thriving small businesses and places to walk, bike and use transit; residents are diverse, civically engaged and socially connected.

FUNDING FOR PRIMARY PREVENTION AND HEALTH EQUITY

Funding Priorities

The 2023 Get Healthy San Mateo County (GHSMC) Request for Proposals (RFP) is intended to support the following five (5) priority areas:

- Civic Engagement
- Community Collaboration for Children’s Success (CCCS)
- Community Health Worker Collaboration
- Resident Engagement Collaborative Model
- Restorative Justice Practices in School Settings

Funding Allocation

A total of $700,000 in funding is anticipated to support up to five (5) projects over a two-year period (July 2023 - June 2025). The funding available is anticipated to be $350,000 annually.

GHSMC awards funding to community and faith-based organizations, non-profits, public agencies, and schools for place-based primary prevention and health equity efforts. The focus of this funding is to improve the health of SMC residents by building healthy, equitable communities where “all residents, regardless of income, race/ethnicity, age, ability, immigration status, sexual orientation, or gender have the opportunity to reach their full potential” – the GHSMC vision.

Place-Based Primary Prevention

Where we live, work, play, and go to school profoundly shape our health. People who live in places that make the healthy choice the easy choice live longer, healthier lives. Place-based primary prevention focuses on creating healthy places that prevent people from getting sick in the first place.

Health Equity

Not everyone in San Mateo County has the same opportunity to live a healthy life. The pandemic has made clear racial inequities across GHSMC priority areas and has exacerbated racial health inequities in our county.

Health equity ensures that all people have the opportunity for health and wellbeing. Building health equity requires a focus on populations with higher rates of preventable health issues and in places with the fewest opportunities for health. The goal of the Community Implementation Funding strategy is to support efforts that prioritize health and equity by seeking to improve conditions for populations with limited or lower opportunities to be healthy.

Funding Priorities

GHSMC prioritizes funding that aligns with the strategic plan. The plan has not been updated since 2020, due to the COVID pandemic. Therefore, the priorities for this Request for Proposals (RFP) also considers learnings, strategies, and priorities identified during the last two years. This RFP will fund the following project areas (details for each follow): Civic Engagement, Community Collaboration for Children’s Success (CCCS) Action Plan priorities, Community Health Worker Collaboration, Resident Engagement, and Restorative Justice Practices in School Settings.

Empowered residents have strong social connections and are involved in civic activities and decision-making processes for their communities.

Civic engagement encompasses a broad range of activities whereby individuals strive to affect changes that improve quality of life in their communities. It can include activities such as volunteering, joining community groups, community gardening, voting, and participating in political processes. Civic engagement has the power to improve health at the individual level (increased sense of purpose and emotional health), social level (strengthened relationships and mutual trust), and systems level (advancement of policies supporting health). One key, measurable component of civic engagement is voter registration and turnout. In San Mateo County, there are disparities in voter turnout across geographic areas, racial groups, and age groups (see sources listed below). To address these disparities, Get Healthy San Mateo County promotes awareness of the connection between voting and health through our Vote For Your Health campaign and collaborates with countywide partners to increase voter engagement. <https://www.gethealthysmc.org/vote-your-health>

Funding Opportunity:

Funding will be awarded to one project that brings people together to work towards better conditions for health in their community (whether defined geographically or by identity) and that fosters agency and leadership in people most affected by health inequities in San Mateo County.

- Civic engagement activities that will be considered include: civics education, nonpartisan issue awareness building activities, community power building, and leadership development
- Types of civic engagement that will not be considered for funding include: volunteerism, service learning, fundraising, and partisan political activities

All proposals must include voter engagement in the 2024 elections as a project element, which may involve promoting the importance of voting, voter registration and pre-registration (for youth), addressing language and accessibility barriers to voting, conducting voter rights education, or implementing other efforts to increase turnout in a nonpartisan manner.

Project Examples Include:

- Expanding or sustaining youth organizing programs that gives youth skills and opportunities to advocate for changes that impact community health
- Integrating an equity-focused civics curriculum into an existing youth development program
- Strengthening the capacity of a neighborhood coalition working to address a social determinant of health
- Designing and delivering resident workshops explaining policy making processes in areas impacting community health, such as education, transportation, housing, job economy, and public health
- Training and mentoring a cohort of community leaders interested in applying and serving on local governing boards, commissions, and committees

COMMUNITY COLLABORATION FOR CHILDREN'S SUCCESS

In San Mateo County, 53% of youth clients in Probation and 43% in Behavioral Health and Recovery Services come from the same 4 zip codes.

The neighborhoods where children and their families live have an impact on their success and well-being. Children and youth from communities that have been marginalized have greater representation in high-intensity county systems such as juvenile probation, child welfare and substance abuse programs. Focused attention and aligned resources in these locations are key to better long-term results for youth who face significant challenges.

Using a place-based approach, the Community Collaboration for Children's Success (CCCS) identifies barriers to success and long-standing sources of risk. In 2018-19, through community activities, surveys, and data analysis, community stakeholders identified priority interventions to support youth success and created neighborhood plans in four San Mateo County neighborhoods: Daly City, East Palo Alto, North Fair Oaks, and South San Francisco.

Funding Opportunity:

Funding will be awarded to one project that addresses the inequities highlighted through CCCS and works to ensure that all children and youth are safe, healthy, and supported in their families, schools, and communities. Proposals must address one of the top strategies in the Neighborhood Action Plans for the CCCS focus communities:

- Daly City Plan: <https://www.gethealthysmc.org/cccsneighborhooddaly-city>
- East Palo Alto Plan: <https://www.gethealthysmc.org/cccsneighborhoodeast-palo-alto>
- North Fair Oaks/Redwood City Plan: <https://www.gethealthysmc.org/cccsneighborhoodnorth-fair-oaksredwood-city>
- South San Francisco Plan: <https://www.gethealthysmc.org/cccsneighborhoodsouth-san-francisco>

Project Examples Include:

- Providing trauma-awareness training and ongoing technical assistance for youth and family serving providers (which could include school staff, childcare and afterschool care providers, law enforcement, case managers, etc.)
- Strengthening connections between youth, parents, school staff, mental health providers, and other stakeholders to improve school climate and increase supportive relationships for youth
- Expanding job training programs and pathways to living wage jobs for transition-age youth
- Developing or expanding evidence-based interventions designed to address community violence (which could include gangs, domestic violence, sexual assault or harassment, police harassment, and bullying)
- Providing trauma-informed, culturally appropriate legal education and assistance to youth and/or adult caregivers of children who have been impacted by, or are at risk of being impacted by, the justice system

Please refer to the Neighborhood Action Plans and identify the city and strategy you are addressing in your proposal.

COMMUNITY HEALTH WORKER COLLABORATION

Community Health Outreach Workers are effective because they use preexisting networks to include populations that have traditionally had poor access to community services and resources.

Community Health Outreach Workers (CHOW) are trusted people from the community who strive to engage residents where they already gather, such as community centers, places of worship, and other neighborhood places. The opportunity to utilize a collective impact model to build, establish, and expand the workforce through training, skills-building, and leadership development has been highlighted as an effective strategy during the COVID-19 pandemic. This workforce can be deployed to specifically reach and connect residents who have been most impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic and other chronic disease conditions to provide accurate and culturally responsive health information, resources, referrals, and linkages to care.

Funding Opportunity:

Funding will be awarded to one project that can demonstrate the ability to carry out the following:

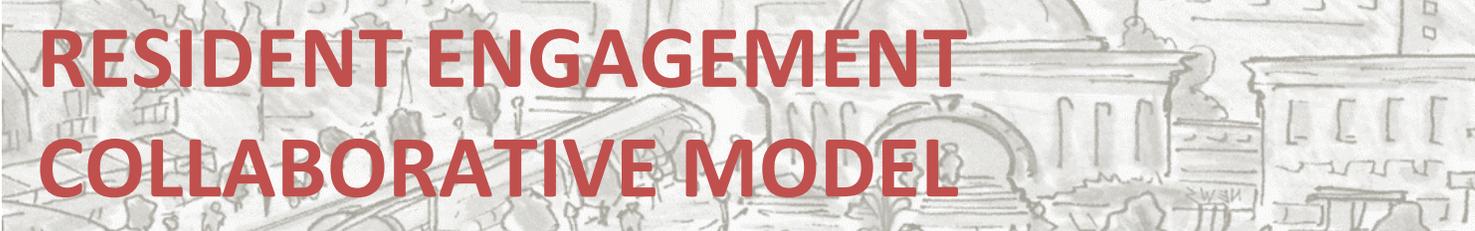

- Act as lead-organization for a collaborative of partnering community-based organizations to identify, develop, and coordinate delivery of a standard core curriculum for training CHOW
- Build and establish countywide collaboration and coordination between local community-based organizations and safety-net service provider agencies through formal agreements to develop a system of referrals and linkages that increase residents' access to specific health and social service resources available in San Mateo County
- Develop coordinated Community Outreach Plans with regional and priority population-based assets and needs that guide worker mobilizations to facilitate equitable access to quality, inclusive, timely, and preventive healthcare, and social support services

Project Examples Include:

- Convening and actively facilitating ongoing meetings for local CHOW to identify, discuss, and implement best practices for community outreach, engagement, education, and ongoing professional development
- Developing a standard curriculum that covers a range of topics to include, but not limited to, health promotion and disease prevention, cultural humility and trauma-informed practices, social issues and policies that affect marginalized communities, health coaching and motivational interviewing skills, public speaking and communication, leadership development, data gathering and shared analysis, and other capacity-building needs
- Identifying and establishing affiliations with local, regional, statewide, and national Community Outreach Worker networks for technical assistance, professional development, and resource sharing
- Developing and/or vetting culturally and linguistically appropriate health education and referral materials for priority populations
- Identifying best practices and coordinate opportunities to promote mental health and self-care for the community outreach workforce

RESIDENT ENGAGEMENT COLLABORATIVE MODEL

To achieve the mission of public health, we must design more community-centered decision-making processes that widen the range of people and communities involved in efforts to reduce inequities. Community collaboration and input is vital to sustainable health equity and social justice efforts.

The Resident Engagement Collaborative Model was built with the input of over 350 individuals from across the county with the intent to develop a structure for community collaboration with Public Health Policy and Planning (PHPP). Results of this process showed that the community preferred a structure that was run and led by the community with an invitation for PHPP to have a standing agenda item for collaboration. In response to the community proposal, PHPP has dedicated funding to develop a convening organization that would lead a community organization collaborative model to advance resident engagement/community collaboration in health equity efforts and whose scope spans the social determinants of health.

Funding Opportunity:

Funding will be awarded to one project that aims to achieve an authentic and sustainable structure for multi-organizational community collaboration with PHPP. The Resident Engagement Collaborative should equip community members with skills and knowledge about civic involvement and social determinants of health to collaborate with PHPP.

Project Examples Include:

- Recruiting community stakeholders (CBO leaders, representatives, and residents) to prioritize upstream prevention strategies for PHPP consideration
- Conducting a readiness and/or landscape assessment for community collaboration
- Facilitating and/or coordinating community convenings for GHSMC and/or PHPP strategic processes
- Coordinating and offering community training on civic engagement, social determinants of health, and other related topics
- Acting as a liaison between the community and PHPP for community input, engagement, and collaborative efforts
- Facilitating regular community-driven meetings inclusive of an agenda item related to emerging public health concerns

RESTORATIVE JUSTICE IN SCHOOL SETTINGS

In San Mateo County, Black/African American and Pacific Islander students are more than twice as likely to be suspended and Latinx students are 1.5 times more likely than their white and Asian counterparts.

Educational attainment is closely linked to economic opportunity and health outcomes across the life course. Graduation rates are another key indicator highlighting disparities. Data from across the state of CA show at more than 20% Black/African American students did not graduate, compared to only 10% white and 6% Asian students who did not graduate. High school graduation is a key economic indicator, with individuals that do not graduate high school averaging an income of less than those who graduate high school and significantly less than those that graduate with a bachelor's degree.

Restorative justice practices (RJP) in schools refer to a range of community-based discipline and conflict-resolution strategies, which provide accountability and redress without removing students from the community. Traditional suspension and expulsion measures, while sometimes appropriate, remove students from the learning environment and too often target students of color. Restorative justice practices encourage facilitated dialogue and repairing harm, instead of relying solely on punishment. Studies have shown that students who are engaged and accountable in their school communities suffer less absenteeism and achieve higher academic success. The goal is to keep kids in school and give them the tools to mediate conflict.

Funding Opportunity:

Funding will be awarded to one project that actively works to address disparities in school discipline in San Mateo County schools by supporting implementation of restorative practices (proactive strategies) and restorative justice (responsive strategies) to move schools away from punitive, exclusionary discipline to a restorative approach that keeps students in school. The priority is to support implementation of RJP in schools and districts throughout San Mateo County, especially those with a disproportionate percentage of Black/African American, Latinx, Pacific Islander, and Special Education students being suspended and expelled.

Project Examples Include:

- Establishing and facilitating a RJP community of practice that support educators with adoption and implementation RJP in their schools
- Facilitating engagement in the school community, including teachers, administrators, students, and parents and caregivers in planning and implementation of RJP
- Supporting the development of school or district level plan for RJP implementation
- Providing training and technical assistance to schools and districts to support RJP implementation
- Identifying best practices for supporting the adoption of policies that prioritize RJP

The posting may be inclusion of the recommendation to award as an agenda item on the Board of Supervisors schedule.

B. Award Procedure

Contract negotiations are neither an offer nor an implicit guarantee that a contract will be executed. Award, if made, will be to the responsive, responsible proposer offering the overall best value to the County for the services and goods described in this solicitation, or as applicable, for a specific portion of the services and goods described. Any agreement reached will be memorialized in a formal agreement using the attached Standard Agreement template.

C. Commencement of Performance

After all parties have signed the Agreement, the County will notify the proposer and performance may proceed. Prior to County execution of the Agreement, no County employee may authorize work. Any work performed prior to that time may be uncompensated.

PROTESTS

Protests that do not comply with the protest procedures outlined below will be rejected.

Failure to file by the relevant deadline constitutes a waiver of any protest on those grounds. Supplemental materials filed after the relevant deadline may be rejected by the County.

- (1) If relating to the content of the solicitation or to an addendum, file within five (5) Business Days after the date the County releases the solicitation or addendum.
- (2) If relating to any notice of non-responsiveness or non-responsibility, file within five (5) Business Days after the County issues such notice.

- (2) Protests that simply disagree with decisions of the Evaluation Committee will be rejected.

D. Reply to Protest

The County will send a written response to the protestor and to any other party named in the protest.

E. No Stay of Procurement Action during Protest

Nothing in these protest requirements will prevent the County from proceeding with negotiations or awarding a purchase order or contract while a protest is pending.
